The office building before being acquired by NOAA and after renovation by the sanctuary's dedicated volunteers.

Scale Model
